

A Trip? A Dream?

Candy Leung Yu Hung

Long long time ago, Chocolate and I lived in a beautiful but very small forest named 'Chocolate Forest'. Our house was made of plenty of snacks and cookies. It was a candy house like the story. It looked very yummy. We lived happily until yesterday...

Yesterday morning, I couldn't find Chocolate when I woke up. "Where are you? Chocolate?" I yelled and searched for a long time but got no response. I was so scared that I seemed to cry. A lot of cold sweats were coming from my head. 'Where is Chocolate? Why has he disappeared?' I thought to myself. When I didn't know what to do, I found a strange letter suddenly had appeared on Chocolate's bed. 'What is it?' I thought. After I read the letter, I was so angry and nervous. The letter was about Mickey and Minnie taking Chocolate away because Chocolate was very wise and handsome. They were very jealous Chocolate was smarter than them. They wanted to kill Chocolate!!! "No! NO! I will save Chocolate! I must save Chocolate!" I decided to go to 'I Hate Disneyland' where Mickey and Minnie lived.

First, I found a map and took a look at how to go there. I needed to pass through 'Chocolate Forest', a river named 'I Love Ocean Park more than Disneyland' and a terrible bridge named 'Death Bride'. After tidying up my things and changing my clothes, I took a knife to protect myself. Then, I rode a bike to pass through 'Chocolate Forest' to the river. I lived in 'Chocolate Forest' when I was a baby, so I knew how to get there. The sun was shining on a beautiful blue sky. It seemed that the weather encourage me.

When I arrived near the river, I thought about how I could go to the bridge. At that time, an old man came and asked me, "What are you doing here?" I told the old man that I wanted to go to 'I Hate Disneyland' to save Chocolate. The old man was so kind. He lent me a ferry which could arrive at the bridge. I was so lucky. Then, the big problem came. I needed to pass through 'Death Bride'. It was very dark and terrible. People have died when they stepped on it.

When I took my first step onto the bridge, the weather SUDDENLY changed. The clouds covered the sun. IT WAS VERY HORRIBLE! I was so scared! The sound of thunder appeared as the old man who lent me ferry asked, "What do you want to do? Save Chocolate?" When I wanted to say 'Yes', I had a sudden headache. Then, I felt dizzy and fainted...

When I opened my eyes again, I was on my bed. Chocolate came and said, "Haha...You overslept, you Lazy Pig!" 'What happened?' I thought. I was still wearing the clothes that I had changed into, but the knife had disappeared. Was it a dream? Was it real? I didn't know, but I knew that I was very lucky to have Chocolate back.
